

Vertical lines are proportion of available data actually used, picking only bins without NAs

